CHOSEN BIBLICAL New Testament SCRIPTURE-

This month's coloured attachment scripture is 1 Corinthians 13:4-7

“Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. Love never fails”

This type of love is a supernatural kind of love and is a clear proof of regeneration. The description of the nature and effects of Christian love is an enemy to selfishness; it does not desire or seek its own applause, or honour, or profit, or pleasure. Love never seeks its own to the neglect harm of others.

The Holy Spirit fills believers with the love of God which results in practical love, enables them to live with each other. Love is to be exercised by disciples for love is part of the fruit of The Holy Spirit. God is the source of love.

Human love responds to God's love, for it transforms. Without love godly deeds are worthless.

★ BIBLICAL KNOWLEDGE- Did you know that God in His Sovereignty and Grace had chosen to use the Church's chief opponent as his instrument and transform him as one of the greatest leaders and missionary for Christ and the Body of Christ to both Jews and Gentiles alike in the history of The Church? Living in Damascus at this time, 34 A.D. was a devout observer of God's Word and a disciple of Christ, Ananias, a well respected Jewish man by the Jewish community dwelling there. Jesus appeared to Ananias in a vision and told him to go to a certain street and house where Paul was staying and that he was praying and expecting a man called Ananias to visit him and restore his sight in the Name of Jesus.

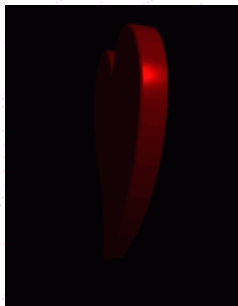

More about the faithful and obedient disciple Ananias, and a Colouring Page of him laying his hands upon Paul is found at <http://www.tne.net.au/~abdaacts/anah.html>

A JULY EVENT-Thomas Guthrie was born on July 12, 1803 to a prosperous merchant and his spiritual wife. He entered the University of Edinburgh at age 12, studied physical sciences, and graduated at 16. His inclinations were toward theological studies, and in 1830 assumed the pastorate of a small congregation in Arbirlot, Scotland. He started with forming cottage prayer meetings, Sunday schools, and a parish library. His preaching was uncompromising, friendly, and well received. Guthrie was soon made minister of Old Gray Friars Church in Edinburgh, then of St. John's Church in Edinburgh's slums. He established ministries to the poor, whom he frequently visited. His best-known program was the Ragged Schools for juvenile delinquents. He fiercely promoted total abstinence, seeing daily the effects of alcohol on the unfortunate. The poor loved him, yet his outgoing personality, deep enthusiasm, and fertile sermons appealed to the higher classes of society, and Guthrie soon became the most popular minister in Scotland. He turned from pastoring to spend his remaining years editing a Christian magazine. In 1873, his funeral procession tracked through a crowd of 30,000 spectators which included 230 children from the original Ragged School.
